CALL FOR ENTRIES: BOSCH THERMOTECHNOLOGY ANNOUNCES RETURN OF ITS GREEN LIVING AWARDS FOR 2015

- ▶ Awards Program Seeks Entries of Energy Efficient Installations
- ▶ Residential & Commercial Categories
- ▶ Accompanying Children's Art Contest for Three Age Groups

Londonderry, New Hampshire – The Bosch Thermotechnology Corp. Green Living Awards contest is returning for 2015. The contest, now in its third year, recognizes both residential and commercial projects that incorporate Bosch Thermotechnology products.

The contest seeks entries from contractors, builders, engineers and others responsible for energy efficient project installations using Bosch Thermotechnology heating and cooling products and recognizes best entries with gift cards and recognition prizes. A selected panel of judges from Bosch Thermotechnology considers entries from the United States and Canada.

Eligible Bosch Thermotechnology products include boilers (floor & wall-mounted), combi boilers, tankless water heaters, DHW storage tanks and water source geothermal heat pumps.

Best entries from residential and commercial award categories will be awarded 1st, 2nd and 3rd prize in each category. First-place winners in each category will be invited to an awards ceremony during the 2016 AHR Expo in Orlando next January.

As part of the Green Living Awards contest, an accompanying Children's Art, Photography and Creative Writing Contest Visa Rewards Card prizes to entries based on age and creative expression from children in three age groups: 2-6, 7-11, and 12-16 years.
